- #1 You could lose money you've invested for your trip if bad weather conditions cause delay or cancellation of your trip.
- #2 You may have to cut your trip short and return home for an emergency or you could be seriously injured during your trip and require emergency medical evacuation.
- #3 Your equipment could be lost, delayed, or stolen, forcing you to purchase additional clothes, essentials, or even prescription medications.
- #4 The Outfitter or Operator with which you're scheduled to travel suddenly ceases operation or goes on strike, or your Guide becomes sick, injured or dies leaving you with no option but to cancel your trip ... with no recourse for reimbursement.
- #5 Some health plans, Medicare, and Medicare supplements may offer little or no medical expense coverage outside the U.S.
- #6 You must cancel/interrupt your trip because the government closed the game reserve, imposed a ban on hunting, or declared the hunting activity illegal.
- #7 You could run into major flight delays forcing you to miss a portion of your trip.
- #8 You may lose your job or get laid off, forcing you to cancel your trip.
- #9 You may be unable to take your trip because you are required to work.
